INSERT LINK

Paste web link:

http:// or

Select Page ▼

> Add

> Cancel

1. Put message here + http:// in the field

2. If I paste a link without "http://" in front, doesn't work. Would be better in this case to make it work even without http:// in front

3. Also, if I open this window from a picture that already have a link (to check or change it), I'd like to see the current link in the field

4. If link is URL, would be better to redirect in another tab
